

Truman Fires U.S. Marshal

Springfield Man Termed 'Irregular'

Washington, June 27—(AP)—President Truman today fired Robert Grant as U. S. marshal for the southern district of Illinois, effective at once, and Attorney General McGranery said Grant had been mixed up in irregularities.

McGranery carried a dismissal notice to the White House for Truman's signature and came out carrying it in his hand.

"It looks to me as if Mr. Grant was involved in something that, to say the least, would be irregular," the attorney general told newsmen. He gave no details other than to say that Grant appeared to have been involved with "a gentleman charged with a mail fraud."

He said he was directing the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to make a full inquiry.

A reporter asked McGranery whether he and the president were "throwing the guy (Grant) out without trying him," McGranery replied, "That's right."

He said he had talked to Grant, and that he "already has indicated enough to me" to justify the summary dismissal.

Marshals act as arms of the federal courts, making arrests, serving legal papers and so on. Grant, whose salary as marshal was $6,800 a year, had headquarters at Springfield.

In Springfield, Ill., both Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie and U. S. District Attorney Howard L. Doyle said Grant's dismissal came as a surprise. The 46-year-old Grant could not be reached for comment.

Judge Briggie said at a news conference that he "assumed that Grant's dismissal was connected with the Knetzer case."

The judge said he "did not know how much time Knetzer spent in Grant's custody but that some newspaper stories have said Grant allowed Knetzer certain freedoms on these trips that he was not supposed to."

Briggie said he mailed a letter today to S. A. Andretta, administrative assistant to the U. S. attorney general, on the question as to who should pay Grant's salary during the time he was with Knetzer.

Cook Grand Jury To Quiz Mayor On Reinstatement

Chicago, June 27—(AP)—The Cook County Grand Jury voted today to call Mayor Martin H. Kennelly before it to explain his reinstatement of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen.

Dr. Bundesen, who has been on leave as president of the Chicago Board of Health, was indicted by another Cook County grand jury for malfeasance in connection with the horse meat scandals.

The indictment was quashed in criminal court on grounds that it was too vague. He is to resume his duties July 1.

State's Attorney John S. Boyle subpoenaed before the grand jury today and was questioned as to what action his office has taken in connection with the Bundesen indictment.

Boyle told the jury he asked reversal of the lower court in quashing the Bundesen indictment in Appellate court Thursday. Boyle contended the court should have asked for a bill of particulars concerning the malfeasance charge rather than dropping the indictment.

LATE BULLETINS

Washington, June 28 (Saturday)—Senate-House conferees early today were reported near agreement on a compromise economic controls bill extending wage and price controls for another eight months to a year.

As conferees continued in closed session, word came from the conference room that a bill would be completed by 1 a. m. (EST).

Earlier, administration forces won back lost ground in the battle over economic controls when the Senate-House conferees abandoned a House provision which would have dropped price controls over all commodities not rationed or allocated.

Seoul, Saturday, June 28 —(AP)—Allied warplanes roared down Friday in their fourth attack of the week on hydro-electric power plants in North Korea.

Immigration Law Passed Over Veto

Washington, June 27 —(P)—A complete overhaul of the nation's immigration and naturalization laws was put on the statute books by Congress today over the veto of President Truman, who had contended the measure would sap U. S. leadership for peace.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) and Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), was passed by the Senate by a vote of 57 to 26. That was five votes more than the two-thirds majority required to override Truman's veto, sent to Congress on Wednesday.

The House had voted 278 to 113 yesterday to enact the bill in disregard of the president's objections.

Among other things the measure retains the present system of immigration based on national origins and increases only slightly the permissible number of immigrants.

The Senate vote cut sharply across party lines. Voting to overturn the veto were 25 Democrats and 32 Republicans. Voting to sustain it were 18 Democrats and eight Republicans.

The measure will become effective six months from today, the date of enactment.

Another Strike Holds Up Work On Atom Project

Paducah, Ky., June 27 —(P)—Nearly all the 22,000 employees on the defense-vital Paducah atomic energy project were idled today by an AFL laborers strike over wages.

Officials of the H. H. McGraw and Company, the major contractor on the half-billion-dollar job, said only 1,500 of the force of about 22,000 reported for work.

The vast majority turned back at the laborers' picket line, maintained in defiance of a back-to-work order by the labor pool chief, Evan Dale. About 4,500 laborers left their jobs yesterday.

"Dale must go," read a large sign exhibited by the pickets. He labeled the strike "wholly unauthorized" and "ridiculous."

Dale, who is from Cairo, Ill., said he didn't want his American Federation of Labor union "to take the blame for all this."

He declared the walkout was the "work of agitators" whom he asked McGraw to fire.

Fred J. Mayo, project manager for McGraw, agreed the walkout was useless. He termed it "profitless and worthless." More than 30 work stoppages have occurred on the project, begun in January, 1951.

But from that point on, he took sharp issue with Dale.

"Dale cannot tell us whom to fire. The men he referred to as agitators are not agitators against McGraw, but against the union. Dale wants us to clean house for him—to get rid of men who are against him."

Dale said he believes the walkout, which started among the laborers yesterday morning, was Communist inspired. But Mayo scoffed at this charge. He said he held the union responsible.

HEAT WAVE UNBROKEN FOR ST. LOUIS AREA

St. Louis, June 27—(P)—It was another day of broken heat records for St. Louis today.

The temperature soared to 102.3 in the city, 103.7 at the airport. The previous record for June 27 was 101.9 in 1931.

The heat also made this the hottest June on record here with an average mean maximum temperature of 93.4. The previous high was June, 1934, when the average for the first 27 days was 92.

Rules Kin Can't Pay For Patient's Expenses

Chicago, June 27 —(P)—Superior Judge John F. Haas today declared unconstitutional a state law requiring relatives to pay, when able, for the support of their kin in public hospitals and institutions.

Passed by the General Assembly last spring, the law compels parents, spouses and children of state mental and other hospital inmates to pay all or part of expenses for their care. Only those relatives proving they are without means would escape the costs.

Asst. State's Attorney Vincent Flood and Asst. State Attorney General William C. Wines said they would appeal the decision. They said $500,000 has already been collected by the welfare department under the act.

Commenting on his decision, Judge Haas said:

"As a taxpayer I want it known that I am in favor of compelling relatives and representatives of in-

Reds Order Big German Canal Closed

Bonn, Germany, June 27 —(P)—The Communists stirred up another headache for isolated Berlin today. They announced the big Mittelland canal—main water link between divided city and the west—will be closed to barge traffic between July 1 and July 18.

Barge captains were told that Soviet zone officials had ordered the closing for "repairs" and that the canal would again be open for the normally heavy barge traffic on July 18. The closure leaves only the Elbe river from north Germany available to inland shipping.

To jittery Berliners it was another annoyance in the stepped-up Communist war of nerves aimed at sabotaging treaties linking West Germany to western Europe's defense setup.

Interior Minister Robert Lehr said his agents have obtained secret Red orders from the east zone directing West German Communists to organize resistance movements aimed at touching off strikes and unrest in an effort to block ratification of the West German peace contract and the treaty bringing West German troops into the European army.

Lehr, who is responsible for the Bonn republic's internal security, said the West German Reds receive funds for their campaign from the Soviet zone through Mrs. Grete Thiele, blonde member of the Bonn parliament whom he described as the kinkpin in the Communist conspiracy in West Germany. He said the equivalent of more than $115,000 dollars a month is being spent to whip up sentiment for Red policies.

But at a news conference, Lehr said western residents could rest assured that the safety of West Germany's borders along the Russian zone would be guaranteed by close cooperation between frontier police and Allied troops.

Reds Assert Raids May Have Adverse Effect On Truce

Moscow, June 27—(P)—The Russians have made it clear that American bombing of the Yalu river power plants may have an adverse effect on the Korean truce talks.

One headline in a Soviet newspaper called the bombing a "barbaric act of the American aggressors." Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said it was a "provocative bombing."

A dispatch from Paris, printed by most papers here, said the bombings had caused a wave of indignation in France. Indian Prime Minister Nehru also was quoted in Moscow papers today as saying his countrymen were "staggered" by the bombings while efforts were being made to establish peace. Most Russians are expected to agree with Nehru.

It is quite obvious here that the Russians will use the Yalu bombings in an effort to prove the Americans are not seriously interested in a Korean truce. The newspapers have not yet voiced a full-throated condemnation of the strike at the hydroelectric stations across the river from Manchuria, but there is every indication the bombings may become a real incident here.

The Russians are expected to interpret the parliamentary debate in Britain over the bombings as a sure sign of growing differences between the U. S. and Britain.

DUTCH LABOR PARTY TO FORM GOVERNMENT

The Hague, The Netherlands, June 27—(P)—Queen Juliana today asked the Labor party leader Willem Drees, prime minister of the outgoing cabinet to form a new government.

The Labor party came out of Wednesday's elections as the biggest Dutch party, beating the Catholic Peoples party by some 16,000 votes. Labor and Catholics both have 30 seats in the new Lower House of Parliament. Since 51 seats is needed for an absolute majority Drees will have to form a coalition government of two or more parties.

Repudiate Yalta-Taft

Political Review

By The Associated Press
Senator Robert A. Taft predicted yesterday the Democrats may draft President Truman to run again as "the only strong" figure in the party's bid for a return to the White House.

As for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft said he believes his chief rival for the Republican presidential nomination is still "pulling his punches" in attacking the Truman administration.

The Ohio senator, who has said that if nominated he will conduct a slam-bang campaign against the Truman regime, indicated to newsmen he feels Eisenhower is dealing too much in broad generalities instead of pin-pointing his criticism of the Trumanites.

Campaigning in Virginia, with an eye on the Old Dominion's 23-vote delegation, Taft had this to say of Truman:

"I have always said the Democrats might have to come back to Truman. After canvassing all the other candidates, they may have to take him as the only strong one."

Truman has said he definitely will not run again and would not accept a draft. He has not yet come out openly for any candidate, but reportedly favors Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to become the Democratic standard bearer.

South Against Harriman
Meanwhile, southern Democrats were reported building up steam for a stop-Harriman drive in case Truman should give up on Stevenson and throw his support to foreign aid chief Averell Harriman.

Stevenson has insisted that he "could not accept" the Democratic nomination, but his latest remark this week indicated he might be wavering under pressure. He said it "remains to be seen" whether he would accept a draft at the Chicago convention, July 21.

The stop-Harriman move began to take shape on the heels of Harriman's slap at Southerners in Congress as "men masquerading as Democrats" and his statement that he doesn't care whether the Southern-ers bolt again this year as some of them did in 1948.

Harriman has not exactly warmed Dixie hearts with his demand for compulsory federal civil rights measures and his down-the-line support of the Truman "Fair Deal" program.

To Chicago July 5
Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) announced that Eisenhower will arrive in Chicago on Saturday, July 5, to make an on-the-spot drive for delegates before the GOP convention opens two days later.

California's Gov. Earl Warren, himself a GOP presidential aspirant, took note of the bitter Taft-Eisenhower duel in a speech at the National Press Club in Washington in which he warned against "opening wounds that may be hard to heal."

Says Treaty Now Ignored By Russians

Charlottesville, Va., June 27 —(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft called tonight for the repudiation of the Yalta agreement as the first of several steps to contain the drive of Communism in the world.

In a speech before approximately 5,000 people at the University of Virginia, Taft said:

"The first step we must take is to repudiate the agreements we made at Yalta. The Russians haven't kept them. We should formulate a resolution stating that these pacts are no longer binding."

Taft said the next two steps were "propaganda and infiltration."

He called, as he has before on numerous occasions in the campaign, for giving top priority to the American air force. He said he did not believe the theory of a large land army and added that the only sure protection of London and Paris as well as American cities is overwhelming American strength in the sky.

Taft's speech was a feature of the Institute of Public Affairs which opened Thursday at the University of Virginia.

He defined what he said were the two main principles of a foreign policy. These are, the senator said, to assure the liberty of the American people and their peace.

While he said that the Marshall plan was justified and that he agreed with the Point Four program, he said:

"But today I don't think there is any justification for any further economic assistance to other nations. The day for that kind of an assistance has come to an end."

Taft said he could envision some exceptions, such as a famine in India, or economic assistance to Israel.

Taft said he thought military alliances are justified if they are limited within the capacities of the American people to support them.

He said he had been informed, "by the admirals and generals that I talked to" that the present military and foreign aid programs could be financed for about 20 billion dollars less than they are costing.

Foreign Ministers Chart Plan For Parley With Reds

London, June 27—(P)—The three western foreign ministers reached a compromise agreement tonight to meet with Russia under certain conditions to discuss the merging of East and West Germany, informed sources said.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman conferred for hours on their reply to a Soviet note of May 25 demanding an immediate and unconditional four-power conference on Germany.

It was not disclosed whether the proposed conference would be held by foreign ministers, or at a lower level. Nor were other details of the agreement let out.

A communiqué said the ministers "reached agreement on the substance" of the reply which will not be drafted in final form.

Informed sources said the agreement contained safeguards that a four power meeting would not degenerate into a stall by Russia to prevent rearmament of Western Germany in the western camp.

Superforts Said Ready To Strike

Seoul, Saturday, June 28—(P)—The boss of the Far East U. S. Superforts said today on this second anniversary of the first B-29 strike in Korea that his command is ready to hit Manchuria if restrictions are lifted.

Brig. Gen. Wiley G. Ganey, head of the bombing command, predicted his superforts would "do a good job" but added:

"If it comes to that decision, we would probably like something that flies a little higher and a little faster."

Ganey assured this correspondent that, like his men, he is sold on the superfort even though most of those flying now in the Far East date back to 1943 and 1944 and have been rebuilt several times.

Some of the men who fly the superfort declare "it's the best plane, pound for pound, ever built."

That first strike two years ago was a hurry-up job. It also was probably the first time American planes were loaded for combat with the help of women secretaries.

When the North Korean Communists had invaded South Korea Okinawa base officials hastily recruited cooks, clerks, infantrymen and the American civilian secretaries to load the 500-pound bombs.

Later the Reds reacted violently. They sent as many as 200 jet fighters, against B-29 formations. Three superforts were shot down Oct. 24, 1951, but three days later B-29 gunners destroyed six MIG-15s.

Because of the hot opposition and the large number of escort jets required, the superforts ended day strikes and began night bombing Oct. 29 last year. With bomb sights that aim through the darkness, they pounded airfields and supply bases.

Denison, Tex., June 27—(P)—An 11-year-old bride was back home with mother today after a one-day honeymoon with an Air Force enlisted man.

Apple-cheeked Mary Kendrick, who will be 12 on July 19, and Airman Sergio Maldonado Tristan, 21, of San Antonio were married Wednesday at Sherman, Tex.

Her mother, Mrs. Cleo Kendrick of Durant, Okla., had police pick up the couple yesterday. Tristan is on KP duty at Perrin Air Force base.

"She looked more than 11 to me," said Justice of the Peace Jim Spangler who married them.

The bride's mother, who has eight other children, will meet with Air Force officials tomorrow to take steps to have the marriage annulled.

"If I thought she had any idea of what marriage meant," the mother said, "I'd leave them alone."

"I told that boy my daughter was only 11," Mrs. Kendrick said.

ON WATCH IN THE SKY
An elaborate program of sky watching gets under way on July 14 in all border states, with observers on duty night and day to spot enemy aircraft. Thousands of civilians will volunteer to man the stations to look for possible intruders. Both East and West coasts will be covered completely under what will be known as "Operations Skywatch." Fifty to 80 volunteers will be needed to man each station.
This move has been made necessary by the knowledge that the Russians now have the facilities for launching at least 400 four-engine bombers against the United States in a single effort. So says Maj. Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., Deputy Director of the Air Defense Command. This would be sufficient bombing power to hit all metropolitan and industrial target areas in the nation. These planes, it is explained, would fly below 5,000 feet, making them hard to pick up on radar.
Presumably the Air Defense Command has the facilities for meeting such an attack in case it comes.

HOW TO FIGHT FAT
Dr. Clifford Gastineau of the Mayo Clinic said at an American Medical Association symposium that 15,000,000 Americans are 10 per cent or more overweight. That means they are classified as obese.
They are fat, Dr. Gastineau continued, because they eat too much and walk too little and have too many labor-saving devices. Other speakers warned that overweight leads to other troubles, particularly diabetes. Life insurance statistics were exhibited to show that diabetes kills 3 1/2 times as many fat persons as thin ones. Doctors believe overweight is a contributing factor in many other diseases, especially of the heart.
None of this will be news to those who are careful about their weight, but it is information that needs to be more widely circulated. This is especially true of the panelists' conclusion that there is no easy way to reduce. It can be done only by proper diet.
Perhaps in an effort to avoid an appearance of self-interest, the symposium members failed to warn that it is also dangerous to go on severe diets without medical supervision. Sudden and drastic shedding of weight can have consequences which in some cases have been fatal.
The best way to avoid overweight is, of course, not to get fat in the first place. Men tend to take on weight beginning at age 20 and women at 30. That's the time to be watchful. It's much easier to get rid of five pounds of excess than 50.

Boyle's Column
By Hal Boyle
DENVER, (AP)—There is a girl here I have known since her birth, and she was so small then that her mother now tells her, "I COULD PUT YOU IN A TEACUP THE DAY YOU WERE BORN."
But now she is a tall, pretty, dark-haired young lady who has reached the premature teens.
"What is it like to be a teen-ager?" I asked her.
"I'll tell you," she said. "I don't use my real name."
"What shall I call you, dear?"
"Call me June Badger—that is my favorite imaginary name. I used to dream my name was June Badger, and that I would grow up and marry a man named Harry Pearson."
"All right, June," I said. "Is it fun to be a teen-ager?"
"I should say not," she said firmly. "There are millions of problems. Growups look back and think they would like to be in their teens again. But they forget all the problems."
"What is the biggest problem?"
"Boys," she said flatly. "The ones our age that we'd like to date pre-

Unkind Cut for Wife to Make Husband's Parents Unwelcome
Here is a letter from a mother-in-law that is recommended reading for any wife who has ever made her husband's parents feel less than welcome in her home.
"We wanted so much for our daughter-in-law to love us. But nothing we did helped. She did not want to visit us. Neither did she want us to visit them. At the suggestion of our son we moved to the town in which they lived, thinking we could see them occasionally without bothering anyone. This did not help.
"She continually made us feel that she did not want us around at all. Often when our son urged us to come over, we made excuses—rather than hurt him by telling him how his wife made us feel.
"Then our son was killed in a tragic accident. We thought surely she would turn to us, as we could be much help to her and the children, and they in turn be such a comfort to us.
"She did not even then respond to our love and kindness. Now that she is married again she has just about caused us to do as she has always wanted us to do—stay away from the children entirely.
UNFEELING WIFE CAUSES REAL TRAGEDY OF LIFE
"We love these children more than anything in the world. Yet we do not even feel free to call them on the telephone. We do not feel that we are wanted even for a very, very short visit.
"She does not come to see us, or let the children come. The children love us and as the parents of the children's father we feel we should have the privilege of seeing them. Not seeing them is breaking our hearts. Yet what can we do?
"There is the letter. There may be another side to the story. And yet no matter what the other side is, nothing could be more unfeeling or unkind than for a wife to make her husband's parents feel unwelcome in his own home, and then when their son is gone, deprive them of the satisfaction of enjoying their grandchildren.
"That kind of hardness and inability to see things through another's viewpoint causes the real tragedies of life.
"For what greater tragedy could come to an older couple than to lose a son—and then be made to feel that they have no right to love and enjoy their grandchildren, the only thing in the world they have left of their son?"

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood —(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Movie rights to America's most intriguing mystery — the strange disappearance 22 years ago of a New York Supreme Court Justice, Joseph Force Crater—have just been placed on the bidding block.
Crater vanished in 1930 after leaving his summer cabin in Maine for a business week-end in New York. His wife, Mrs. Stella Crater, granted the story rights through her attorney to Irene Wright, secretary to a Hollywood producer.
British newsmen are boiling because Clark Gable won't hold still for interviews. The Artie Shaw-Constance Dowling romance, punctuated by fierce bickering, has cooled down to plain friendship.
Hollywood's new economy kick is hair-raising. The U-I call sheet for "The Great Companions" carried this notation: "Three Men for Quartet." Further economy was practiced on "Cattle Kate" during the murky days this month on an outdoor set. Director Lee Sholem had shadows painted on the ground to create the illusion of sunlight so no shooting days would be lost.
The boys who worry about such things are trying to figure out how Alan Ladd and Arlene Dahl are going to be able to co-star in "Desert Legion." Arlene towers over Alan. It's the studio's knottiest problem since Richard Basehart had to make love to Marilyn Maxwell. She played her scenes in bare feet and still had to stoop.
HE HAS NINA IN FOCUS
It's magazine photographer Milton Greene, a ringer for John Garfield, who's No. 1 in Nina Foch's life, replacing director Vincente Minnelli. Nina's pals think that her European vacation plans are a cover up for a honeymoon with Greene latter this summer.
Steve Dunne, who made 30 flickers before playing in James Mason's "Lady Possessed," isn't taking the rap for the "Introducing Stephen Dunne" billing he received in the picture. He's so embarrassed about it that he's blaming June Haver, who squawked, he says, about sharing normal star billing with him.
The Gene Barrys—he is Paramount's new fair-haired boy—are expecting a Christmas baby. It will be a family affair on the Dorothy Shay TV show over CBS. Dot's niece and two nephews have been set to play kinfolk. Ursula Thiess says her dating with Bob Taylor isn't serious. "He's a nice guy," is her only comment. Ken Tobey, who saved the world from "The Thing," will attempt to destroy it as the foreign atomic spy in Sheldon Reynolds' "European Incident."
Joe DiMaggio's ex-wife, Dorothy Arnold, is ready for a comeback in a west coast summer tryout of a new musical, "Penny on a Drum." Sweden's top film queen, Anita Bjork, is headed for Hollywood in the fall. She's now making her first English speaking film, "Memory of Love," in Stockholm.
MAUREEN GIVES 'EM ACTION
Maureen O'Hara and hubby Will Price will go into independent production this fall with "Star of India" another swashbuckler.
"Let other people spend money on 'acting' and 'message stories,'" snorts Maureen. "This is a business. I check with exhibitors to see what they want. They want action—not talk."
Katherine Hepburn's golf sequences in "Pat and Mike" are reminding pals that she was runnerup in the finals of the Connecticut Women's Open Championship several years ago. But instead of her clubs the caddy carried an umbrella so she wouldn't sunburn and the gallery loved it.
"Sword of Damascus," a screenplay tailored for Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie, is ready for the cameras at U-I. But Piper's pals say she's boiling at Tony's remarks about her and will ask the front office to find Tony another co-star.
There's divorce talk about British star Glynnis Johns and her groom, soap tycoon David Foster. She's in London to play Mary Tudor in Walt Disney's remake of "When Knights Rode in Flower" and he's traveling around the world solo.
Even without Greta Garbo's okay, Ida Lupino and Collier Young are going ahead with their idea of filming "The House of the Seven Garbos"—about the Hollywood boarding house where aspiring starlets dwelt.

THE WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the summer of 1950, just after the battle for Korea started, Bernard Baruch came to Washington and warned Congress there'd be bad inflation unless it slapped on price and wage controls.
President Truman wasn't impressed. But Congress was and voted Truman a price-wage control power before the summer was over. The 1950 elections were coming up in November. Truman didn't set up the price machinery until after the elections.
But it takes time to get machinery like that in motion. It was early in 1951 before the government was able to put a lid on prices and wages. And by that time living costs had begun to climb.
In the 18 months since controls went on, living costs have risen 4 1/2 per cent. They reached a peak last January, dipped a bit, and in May surged up again, almost equal to the January mark.
The Republicans have dumped the blame at Truman's door for his tardiness in starting controls in 1950. But these controls will end Monday, June 30, unless Congress votes to continue them. Now the Truman administration, a few months before the 1952 elections, wants them continued.
The Senate listened and voted to keep them eight months to a year longer. But Thursday the House voted—it was a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats who did it—to kill practically all controls except wage controls.

THE MATURE PARENT
When You Shut Children Out Of Adult Talk, Explain Why
BY MURIEL LAWRENCE
Mrs. Joe Armstrong is pretty mad at Mr. Armstrong. She is hurt at the way he is carrying on at the dinner table with his mother and sister, who have come for the weekend.
As she puts the dessert on the table, Mr. Armstrong is laughing so hard at what his sister is saying that he doesn't hear his wife's request for the serving spoon.
"You did knock down the wasps' nest Joe, you know you did!" his sister is accusing him. "You had to be such a smarty! Remember how we looked with our faces swollen with stings and how mama kept yelling for someone to get some mud..."
"Mud's good for stings," says old Mrs. Armstrong, wiping the tears of laughter from her eyes. "Those were the days, weren't they? D'you remember the time you'd been smoking, Joe, and your father found out..."
Young Mrs. Armstrong's face is as frozen as the dessert she is serving. She thinks, "Joe's family never was very strong on manners. You think they'd apologize for excluding me from the conversation right at my own table..."
But two days later, this same Mrs. Armstrong who is so allergic to discourtesy, excludes her small daughter from the conversation at her table. As she pours her husband's coffee, she says, "Mabel Halsey's in a terrible state again, Joe. Bill's back on the b-o-t-t-l-e. Someone brought him home d-r-u-n-k again last night and poor Mabel..."
She takes care to spell the words so that the little pitcher with the big ears who sits beside her eating pudding will not understand them.
Now Mr. Halsey's alcoholism is of minor importance to the little pitcher. She is quite able to understand how grownups may be interested in matters that do not concern children. But when they choose to discuss them in her presence, she feels shut out, disconnected from the people she loves and would appreciate the assurance of an apology for their discourtesy.
When fathers and mothers have to make secret communications to each other before children, they should be polite and ask pardon. Mrs. Armstrong should have said, "Forgive us Melly. We are talking about a grown-up thing that would not interest you."
This courtesy would have been reassuring to Melly. Just as reassuring as it would have been to her mother had Mr. Armstrong interrupted his family's recollections of days in which his wife did not share to say, "Excuse us, Letty. We don't get together often. When we do, you must be patient with us."
It would be convenient if we could say of our relationships to those we love, "There, that's set." We never can. To keep them living, those we love should be often able to think to themselves, "How nice of her! How did she know I needed that to be said to me?" These feelings of appreciation are the renewals of love, the reassurances we all need to feel free joy that we are committed to trustworthy people.
Oh, Melly's love for her mother won't be hurt by such a small forgetfulness. But because we do not lose love does not mean that we can ever afford to pass up chances to add to it. When we ask permission to eat a candy from the box Uncle Fred has given Nancy, instead of taking it without asking, we are really saying to Nancy, "Your dignity is of importance to me."
Our child's conviction that his dignity is of importance to us is what enables him to accept our discipline.

Absence of Scar After Skin Graft Over Burn Cannot Be Guaranteed in Advance of Surgery
BY EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
Every once in a while a question is submitted to this column of an extremely technical nature which can be answered only in general terms.
Q—I have heard much about skin grafting for burns. Please explain just how this is done. When such an operation is performed, are there noticeable scars left?
Reader: A—Extensive burns of the skin which do not heal in a reasonable length of time are often treated by skin grafts. In principle this involves removal of skin from another part of the body and its transfer to the area where skin is lost.
There are several methods of doing this, including taking a large flap of skin and leaving the blood supply attached until it has taken hold at the new location.
Whatever method is chosen depends on the location of the burn, its extent, and other factors. The purpose of the skin graft is to restore normal skin without scarring, and while this is often successfully done, the absence of a scar cannot be guaranteed in advance.
Q—My seven-year-old son has pinky. What is the cause, and does low resistance have anything to do with it?
Mrs. R. A—Pinky is highly contagious disease caused by infection. Low resistance probably does not have much to do with acquiring pinky since it is "caught" from someone else.
Recovery is the rule, but every effort should be made to keep it from spreading to others, and someone who has it should be extremely careful about face cloths, towels, and the like.

Q—What damage results from the a fifth of whisky per week with a steady consumption of not less than a shot or two preceding each meal, including breakfast?
A—This is a habit which can scarcely do any good. Over a period of years it might well cause digestive or other disturbances. The habit should be discontinued.
Q—Can you give me some information on bantane? My husband has a duodenal ulcer and is now getting this substance and a diet.
Mrs. F. M. A—Bantane is a comparatively new drug used in the treatment of some stomach ulcers. There have been many reports in the medical literature which indicate that it is a real addition to treatment. When given in connection with diet and under the direction of a physician it may help a great deal.
Q—Is infection of the sinuses hereditary? I know a family—father, mother and son—who are afflicted with this disease.
A. D. S. A—Sinusitis is not considered an hereditary disease, though it is common enough so that it is not unusual for several members of the same family to be afflicted in this manner.
Q—Is it possible for a doctor to find out if any abnormal growth is cancerous or just a harmless tumor before an operation.
Mrs. J. C. R. A—Usually this is possible by taking a tiny bit of tissue from the growth and examining it under the microscope. This is called a biopsy. Sometimes this examination is done at the time of the operation and the results of the microscopic study decide how the operation is to be conducted.

The Kefauver-for-President committee of the District of Columbia threw a big whine-ding in Washington's Mayflower Hotel ballroom the other night. To make arrangements for the party and to keep the organization going after it was over, the committee opened headquarters in suite 375.
They wanted a private telephone put in the offices. But when the telephone installer came to put in the line, the only way he could get into suite 375 was through suite 376. The occupant of suite 376, of all people, happened to be the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Guy Gabrielson.
Neither the Federal Communications Commission nor the radio and television networks keep any kind of box score on the amount of time given to rival political candidates.
Though the law says that equal time and facilities must be given to opponents for the same office, this issue hasn't arisen very often among candidates for national office.
In the case of General Eisenhower's free time on all the networks for his Abilene speech and press conference, Senators Taft and Kefauver demanded equal free time, and got it. But radio and TV officials claim they have no idea on whether candidates of one party have had more time on the air than the other.
Senator Taft has been having trouble with the photographers some more. When the senator's campaign manager, David S. Ingalls, was in Washington recently, the two of them had a quiet dinner together in Mr. Ingalls' hotel suite.
Photographers got wind of it and asked permission to take a picture of the two having dinner together. Senator Taft refused to allow the picture to be made, and told the photographers to come back after dinner.
The photographers thereupon agreed among themselves not to return and not to take his picture at all.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Ferguson, Cut From Program, Was to Present Ike in Detroit
BY PETER EDSON
Washington —(NEA)— Original plan for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's speech at Detroit was that he would be introduced by Michigan Sen. Homer Ferguson.
The Republican senator accepted the invitation. But he made clear that in his introduction he would have to say that he himself had not yet made up his mind whom he would support for the presidency.
When Arthur Summerfield, Michigan GOP political leader, heard about this he changed the program and introduced Eisenhower himself.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., who is national chairman of the Averell Harriman-for-President committee, made the pre-election statement that he would consider it a victory if his man were not defeated by more than two to one in the race against Sen. Estes Kefauver for the District of Columbia's six delegates.
Roosevelt's reason was that Mr. Harriman had entered the race only two weeks before the Democratic primary and this late start gave Kefauver the advantage. The way it turned out, of course, was that Harriman won, four to one. It shows how far wrong even professional politicians can be.
Georgia Sen. Richard Russell's hopes of having 350 delegates from the Solid South for the first ballot at Chicago aren't materializing as rapidly nor as solidly as anticipated. Here's the line-up:
Alabama—24 split, 7 Russell, 7 Kefauver, 8 unpledged.
Arkansas—22 pledged to Senator Fulbright as favorite son.
Florida—24 Russell 19, Kefauver 5.
Georgia—24 sure for Russell as native son.
Kentucky—26 for Vice President Alben Barkley native son.
Louisiana—20 for Russell.
Maryland—18 for Kefauver.
Mississippi—18 for Russell.
North Carolina—Russell 19, Harriman 1, Stevenson 4; Barkley 4, unpledged 10.
Oklahoma—24 for Senator Kerr, as native son.
South Carolina—16 for Russell.
Tennessee—28 for Kefauver.
Texas—52 uncommitted. Heavily counted on for Russell, they may go for House Speaker Sam Rayburn if his boom develops.
Virginia—28 counted on for Russell.
For Russell this adds up to 1513 without Texas, 2034 with it. Kefauver has 58. The four favorite sons—Fulbright, Barkley, Kerr and Rayburn—would have 124 delegates who would not hold but would probably be split after three or four ballots. Likewise, the two scattered delegates and the 181 unpledged will split.
Of these 1441 uncertain delegates needed by Senator Russell to give him approximately 300, he would probably get the majority, but not all.

EAT WELL for Less
Turkey Is Plentiful Food for July Budgets
By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Here's good July eating news. Turkeys will strut their stuff in budget menus. There will also be large quantities of eggs and chickens. For refreshing cool drinks on torrid days, there will be lots of fresh lemons and lemons as well as plenty of canned and frozen citrus products.
The United States Department of Agriculture reports the following foods abundant for July: eggs, turkeys, fish, fresh fruits and vegetables in season, canned and frozen peas, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk, buttermilk, peaches, lemons, limes, canned and frozen citrus fruit.
Supplies of turkeys are expected to be larger than ever before at this season, according to the Department of Agriculture. There will be lots of very tender-meated roasters for home needs.
The young birds that growers are sending to market now include many of the small, meaty Beltsville type. They are only about four months old and weigh five to eight pounds, ready to cook. They are delicate in flavor and texture, and generally have less fat than older birds.
There will also be young hens of the Bronze type, weighing up to 10 pounds, ready to cook. Either kind will be a good budget family buy.
Here are a few practical cooking tips: Stuff and prepare these little birds for the oven the usual way. Rub or brush skin with fat to give good even color. Place the bird on a rack in a low, open roasting pan with no water. The small five-pound bird need not be turned during cooking. There will be only a few drippings. Baste as needed with cooking fat.
Turn the larger eight to 10-pound bird from side to side during the cooking for even browning. Baste the bird whenever you turn it. A little bird weighing from five to eight pounds, ready to cook, will take from 2 1/2 to 3 hours in a 325 degree F. oven. It will be done when the thigh joints move easily.
SUNDAY'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed black-berries, shredded wheat, bacon omelet, enriched toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.
FOURTH OF JULY DINNER: Fresh fruit cup, roast stuffed young turkey, cranberry jelly, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes or fluffy rice, peas with mint, buttered white onions, enriched rolls, butter or margarine, blueberry pie with cheese, iced coffee, milk.
SUPPER: Deviled eggs, sardines, lemon wedges, rye bread, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, cucumber sticks, stewed fruit, orange cupcakes, tea, milk.
No matter what the vegetable, it will taste better the sooner it is cooked after being harvested. Half an hour may be sufficient to dull the flavor of those that are rich in sugar, which quickly begins to change to starch.

TRIPLET HEIFERS BORN
ANNA, ILL. (AP)—Triplet Guernsey heifers—extremely rare—were born recently on a Southern Illinois farm. A veterinarian said the triplets were nearly identical with distinctive triangular patches of white on foreheads and white and amber markings elsewhere.
ABORIGINES ESCAPE POLO
CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Australian aborigines apparently have some racial factor which gives them immunity to poliomyelitis. Commonwealth Director-General of Health, Dr. Arthur J. Metcalfe, says. No aborigine has been affected in the polio epidemic now raging in Central Australia or in the epidemic of a few months ago at Darwin although there are hundreds of aborigines in the area. Dr. Metcalfe says no research has yet been done on the cause of the immunity.
CHEMICALS AGAINST DEER
CEDAR FALLS, Iowa (AP)—A new type of chemical will be tried in an effort to halt crop damage by deer in this vicinity. The test will be supervised by biologists of the Iowa Conservation Commission on a farm adjoining Josh Higgins State Park. Six acres, exposed to deer depredation, will be planted to soybeans and treated with the repellent. Two other acres in the same tract will be planted but unsprayed.
The tenant on the farm, Henry Thies, says that he tried to raise soybeans on 11 acres two years ago but the deer ate the tops off the plants. The result was no crop.

$319,000 and the hopper cars from the Pullman-Standard Car Manu-

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty...

luxurious comfort... brilliant, masterful performance
... and wonderful prestige.And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

THE BELL...and THE BELLS

The Liberty Bell never rings. Ever since it cracked while tolling the death of Chief Justice Marshall in 1835, it has stood motionless and silent, like the Americans—men and women, boys and girls—who come every day to behold it.

But each Sunday, in cities and hamlets across the continent, the church bells ring! They have taken up the song of their silent brother that it may echo endlessly throughout America.

Those millions of Christian worshippers for whom the bells ring are a living symbol of Freedom. But, more than that, they are the users of Freedom, preserving through practice and prayer their sacred right to believe, and to live their faith.

Small matter that The Liberty Bell does not ring. Freedom shall live as long as Church BELLS ring.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Summer Living Keep Your Home Cool

Streamlining your house for the coming hot weather will not only soothe the family's nerves, but it will mean less wear and tear on you. Simply make up your mind you are going to keep indoor temperatures under control. With a little planned strategy, you can do it.

Clear out all unnecessary bric-a-brac and enjoy the empty spaces. Take up the rugs and take down the heavy draperies. Shorter curtains, incidentally, are very fashionable now, and if they just miss touching the window sills, so much the better. They'll stay clean longer.

Rugless floors can be kept in fine shape by damp-dry moppings. Wring out a square of cheesecloth in soapy water until it is dry as possible. Then pin it over the mop and let it pick up any dust and lint on the floors. It's a quick clean up, requiring no more effort than you can comfortably spare on a sizzling day.

Resort to such easy-cleaning devices as plastic slipcovers for your lamp shades, which need only a wiping off with a soapy cloth, since they don't absorb grime.

Plastic window shades are a blessing in summer, for you can substitute them for curtains any where in the house. If you wash them both inside and outside, you keep a lot of dust out of the room that otherwise would accumulate and gradually sift in. This holds true for window sills, too. Keeping window sills scrubbed is a lot easier than washing what blows in.

If there are any upholstered pieces around that aren't easily soap-and-water cleaned, you might try a trick with large bath towels. Select towels that have some color relation to the room's general decor. Smooth them over backs and seats of your upholstered chairs at the first sign of hot weather. Tucked neatly into the crevices, they look invitingly cool and comfortable. And on the practical side, they absorb perspiration, hair oils, and youngsters' fingerprints. These impromptu slipcovers, of course, can be put into the washing machine as often as they need it—and there's no ironing.

Just remember as you go about the task of summerizing your home, what looks mussy, looks hot and uncomfortable. Temperature control is that basic.

Household Hints

Do let your professional rug cleaner rebind worn edges of rugs and carpets. Attempts to trim off such edges only result in greater unraveling.

Check your lamp cords and extension cords periodically. If they appear worn or broken, replace them with new cords bearing the Underwriters' Laboratories tag.

If you have one of those wool-rubber combination brushes that pick up such substances as animal hair or face powder, suds and rinse it often. It won't pick up dirt unless it is clean.

Don't sun your furs before sending them to the furrier for storage in the spring. Long exposure to hot sun has a tendency to fade certain furs.

If you are the owner of a new washing machine, study the instructions furnished by the manufacturer and oil the machinery according to his directions. Do not lubricate or adjust any part of the washer, however, while the cord is connected to the current outlet.

Sunday School Of First Baptist To Graduate Pupils

An impressive dramatization of "Building the Temple" will be the principal feature of the Sunday morning worship service at the First Baptist church. This is the annual promotion service for the church school and it will take place during the morning worship hour, June 29th, at 10:45 o'clock in the church sanctuary.

Those of the committee responsible for planning the service of worship and graduation ceremonies include Mrs. Perry A. Roberts, chairman, William Sturgeon, Mrs. Roy Gilbert and Mrs. F. S. Patterson.

Miss Mahala McGee will officiate at the organ and the service will be conducted by the minister, Clair E. Malcomson. The Elementary Departments of the church school will proceed into the sanctuary during the singing of the hymn "This Is My Father's World." The scriptures will be read by Donald Davenport. The Superintendent of the Church School, Dr. Perry A. Roberts, will make an introductory statement. The graduates of the Cradle Roll will be crowned for their ceremony under the direction of Mrs. H. W. Geuther, supt.

A goodly number will graduate from the Beginners Department, whose superintendent is Mrs. F. S. Patterson. The featured dramatization will be presented by the graduating class of the Primary Department under the direction of the supt., Mrs. Irene Sanders and her assistant, Mrs. Roy Gilbert. A choir made up of Junior and Junior High boys and girls under the direction of Miss Vera H. Seaton, will sing "Building, Daily Building," after which William C. Deem, supt. of the Department, will present diplomas to the graduating classes of both the Junior and Junior High departments. The choir will then render, "The Master's Service." The offertory will be sung by Mrs. Eloise Plouger and Miss Sylvia Plouger.

All members and friends of the church are cordially invited to share in this unique and impressive worship service.

Evening Ceremony Unites Arenzville Man, Bluffs Girl

In a Sunday evening service at the Immanuel Lutheran church, Miss Rosalie Puelling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Puelling of Bluffs became the bride of Ellis Edward Vanderpool, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hull of Arenzville. Rev. T. O. Schroeder, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at 5:30 p. m. before an altar decorated with lilies, baby's breath and lighted candelabra. Attending the nuptial service were the immediate families of the couple.

Preceding the bridal group to the altar was Rev. Schroeder. Miss Erma Lee Staake played two selections.

Miss Josephine Puelling, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. Oren Russwinkel, cousin of the bride was best man.

The bride, attired in a street length dress of white butternut linen and lace accented by a white sweetheart lace hat studded with rhinestones, carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a purple orchid trimmed with satin ribbon and streamers.

The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink and white organza and a white carnation corsage. The men wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua dress with white accessories. The groom's mother chose a blue and white two-piece ensemble with black accessories. Both wore corsages of red carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nortrup. On the white-candle decorated table was a two-tiered wedding cake, which was served by Lorene Russwinkel. Josephine Puelling served punch.

Later in the evening a large crowd gathered to charivari the newlyweds, after which they departed on a honeymoon to an unknown destination. For her going away outfit the bride wore a printed sheer dress and the orchid from her bridal corsage.

Upon their return the couple will reside in Springfield where the groom is employed as a machinist at the Allis Chalmers plant.

HELICOPTERS SOUGHT

Singapore—(P)—The Royal Air Force in Malaya is making inquiries in London about the possibility of obtaining large helicopters capable of carrying up to 20 men each for use in the war against the Communists. The big hover-planes could be used by combat troops to descend into jungle clearings to intercept sleeping terrorists instead of hacking their way slowly as at present. It is understood, however, that Western Union and other rearmament commitments will make it unlikely that such troop-carrying helicopters will be made available to Malaya for some time.

Sonny Gross Battles To Win Over Setser In Stock Car Feature

The final result was the same but the script was handled a little differently at the Morgan county fair grounds stock car races last night.

Sonny Gross of Quincy buzzed his 144 to the tape first in the 40-lap feature but he had to sweat plenty in the 100-degree temperature to get the job done.

In fact, three drivers were prominent in the 40-lapper. Les Coghill of Pandon ran first for 29 laps of the feature. Then Earl Setser, driving out of Jacksonville, pushed 822 into the lead.

The final five laps showed a two-car battle between Setser and Gross. The Quincy youngster battled for the lead but was repulsed at every turn by Setser's skillful driving.

However, Gross saw an opening when he rounded the north turn to come home for the checkered flag. He cut the 144 sharply to the inside and beat Setser by a two-length margin.

About 3,000 fans witnessed last night's races. The track was a very fast and plenty of thrills were offered.

Bruce Wolke and Sonny Roach were leading Jacksonville drivers. Wolke came out with a neat, new 88 and won the second heat race. Roach pushed his OZ across the finish line first in the second semi-final.

Roach was involved in a pile up early in the feature and didn't finish. Wolke had engine trouble.

David Knight, local hard-luck driver, brought a new auto to the track and promptly had it wrecked in one of the heat races.

The Results:
Match race—Francis Kelly, Macomb; Wayne Ham, Macomb; Sonny Gross, Quincy.

First heat—Francis Kelly, Macomb; Earl Setser, Jacksonville; Sonny Gross, Quincy.

Second heat—Bruce Wolke, Jacksonville; Lem Bartley, Macomb; Dick Ertel, Quincy; Gene Bedenbender, Timewell.

Third heat—Les Coghill, Pandon; Tiger Ray Black, Macomb; Don Lipcaman, Jacksonville; Don Hay, Jacksonville.

First semi-final—Ed Fries, Quincy; Russ Gross, Quincy; Wayne Ham, Macomb; Bob Kendrick, Mendon.

Second semi-final—Sonny Roach, Jacksonville; Andy Avery, Macomb; Junior Maddox, Ashland; Tom Thompson, Rushville; Bob Southwell, Beardstown.

"B" Feature—John Turner, Quincy; Bob Adams, Herb Glancy, Jacksonville; Don Smith, Jacksonville.

Little Redbirds Still Hot, Tip Giants 19-9

The Little League Cardinals continued their red-hot scoring pace as they dumped the Giants 19-9 yesterday evening.

The Giants actually outthrew the Redbirds 9 to 6. However, Giant pitchers gave up ten walks and fielders committed numerous bobbles to account for the big difference in the score.

Cross pitched for the Cardinals staying on the hill until two were out in the sixth. Cade was called in and whiffed Beggs to end the game.

Hammy pitched for the Giants. There were no afternoon games.

Of course the only way to prove this theory is to get out to the ball park early tonight and take three laps around the fence. And that's not in our contract.

Four real good softball clubs have moved into the semi-finals of the Invitational tourney. The single local club is definitely a dark-horse entry in the semis. Lewis Elevator must survive against Bill Bover and the Macomb Moose in the 7 o'clock time tonight to stay in the running.

The Elevators hope will ride on the good right arm of ex-Marine Lt. Paul Blakeman. A summer-session student at the University of Illinois, Paul comes to Jacksonville this weekend to flip 'em in for the locals. He's got his work cut out for him tonight.

Vickers-Merrins In Golf Finals

MACOMB MOOSE — THE TEAM TO BEAT

Glenn Suthers, Macomb Moose Manager Buck Knowles, right, congratulates his big pitcher Bill Boyer on the fine mound performance turned in by the former Beardstown prep star against Greenfield in the quarter-finals of the Invitational softball tournament at Nichols Park Thursday night.

Record-Breaking Times Feature Olympic Trials

By Ted Smith

Los Angeles, June 27 —(P)—Art Bragg of Morgan State won the blue ribbon 100 meter dash of the final Olympic team tryouts today in 10.5 seconds as a powerful American squad shaped up for the games in Helsinki amid a series of record performances.

Six meet records were set in eight events, with Mal Whitfield's time of 1:48.6 in the 800 meters one of the brightest. This tied the American record held by another Olympic great, John Woodruff of Pittsburgh.

Whitfield is defending Olympic champion at 800 meters and will also try for the 400-meter title. Only in the broad jump and the 100-meter dash did the 1952 performers fail to exceed the best tryout marks ever made by Americans.

Upsets were the order of the day. Milton Engel of New York University and the Pioneer club surprised with the best hammer throw of his life, 182 feet, 5 inches, beating Sam Felton, who had 182.

Then Darrow Hooper of Texas A. and M. threw the shot two feet further than he had ever done before to win at 57-12, with Parry O'Brien of Southern California second at 57-4, and the world record holder, Jim Fuchs, ex-Yale, barely qualifying at 56-11.

Curtis Stone, already a team member at 10,000 meters, defeated Wes Santee, the highly regarded Kansan, in the 5,000 meters with a new American record of 14:27.0.

The first three men in each event of the tryouts automatically qualify for the team. A crowd of 15,000 was on hand. Saturday the balance of the finals will be run off.

Paul Minner Posts 7th Win, Blanks Reds 6-0

Cincinnati, June 27 —(P)—Lefty Paul Minner rang up his seventh win for the Chicago Cubs tonight, shutting out the Cincinnati Reds, 6 to 0, on six hits while smacking two doubles and a single himself. Roy Smalley put the game beyond recall when he whacked a three-run homer in the ninth.

The only solace the Reds got from the contest was their triple play against Chicago in the sixth, the second such play this season. The Pittsburgh Pirates executed the trick against Boston just four days ago.

By Innings:

Chicago 110 000 013-6 12 0

Cincinnati 000 000 000-0 6 0

WHEAT PRICES FALL; SOYBEANS HIGHER
CHICAGO (P)—Wheat dropped and soybeans spurted on the Board of Trade today. The rest of the market didn't do much of anything.
Selling in wheat followed news an embargo would be placed on shipment of the grain to many Kansas terminals tomorrow. The embargo does not apply if wheat is shipped and reduced storing under the government loan.
Buying in soybeans followed news of an expanded consumption of crude soybean oil in May as well as a smaller visible supply at the end of the month. Old crop beans rose most. Traders felt there might also have been some buying on the possibility price ceiling would be abolished.
Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots today—wheat 33, corn 159, soybeans 22.
Wheat closed 1-1 lower, July $2.28-1/2, corn 1/2 lower to 1 higher, July $1.81-1/4, oats 1/2 lower to 1 higher, July 78-78 1/2, rye unchanged to 1 cent higher, July $2.15, soybeans 11-3/4 higher, July $3.29-1/4, and land 12 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher July 11.77.

Houston Man Would Like To See Stars, So 'Revolving Stage' Golf Is Proposed

By Sid Van Uim
NEA Special Correspondent
Houston, Tex. — (P) — Ford Hubbard is a dub golfer when he's not engaged in his oil business.
Ford also is a golf fan.
When he gets on the course, especially where a big-time event is going on, he likes to see the players in action, but like thousands of others, he just can't see enough going on.
I saw Hubbard at the United States Open Championship at Dallas' Northwood Club. We were two of the several thousand present who just got a glimpse of the players' heads from the tees. On the greens only the first to settle down were able to see the stars work with their putters.
In 1946, Hubbard had an idea that might seem like a crackpot notion to some, but to others his idea has merit. He was watching an exhibition match at Houston's River Oaks, where he is a member. After plodding along pushing his fellow members, trying to get a choice spot to watch the action, he thought how nice it would be if he could sit in one place and see everything that was going on.
Centered At Point
"Boy," said Hubbard, "a central seating point would solve all this."
He had Ewell Mills, an engineer, draw up a rough set of plans, with the tees and greens all centering at a point where a suitable seating arrangement could be set up.
Since that day, Hubbard has been plugging away at his idea, has it patented. His sports theater for golf is called Golf View, with the main idea a central spectator area with elevated seats and walkways enabling the fan to watch the play of all contestants simultaneously.
Such well-known players as Hogan, Snead and Demaret believe such a course may be constructed.
Johnny Dawson, one of the nation's foremost amateurs, says it's impossible, as a similar course was tried at Washington's Harding Park and flopped.
Johnny Revolta, one of the game's best-known veterans, claims it isn't golf, but Gene Sarazen thinks Ford's idea will revolutionize courses.
Trains On Schedule
Among others who have been spoken to is Robert Trent Jones, the famous golf architect. Some years back Jones had an idea of small trains running around the course so fans could see everything, but this idea of a central seating point seemed to him much better.
Ford tells me that the course would be of championship caliber.
"And the entire family could come out and watch Dad play and never miss a shot," he claims.
Will Ford Hubbard make any money out of the idea?
I doubt it, but he'll be perfectly satisfied if it turns out successfully so that thousands of golf fans will be able to enjoy a U.S. Open as well as they do a baseball or football game.

THE LAYOUT—Here is how Ford Hubbard's Golf View course could be laid out. (NEA)

The Scoreboard Alexander's Fingers Trembled, But Old Pete Was Winner At 43

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
New York—(NEA)—When it is considered that Grover Cleveland Alexander was an alcoholic and an epileptic, it borders on the fantastic to recall that he was a winning pitcher in the National League until he was 43.
Too, it always was a puzzle to George Toporcer how a man, whose fingers trembled whenever he held his arm outstretched, could have his remarkable control and steel nerves.
Specs Toporcer, who played with Alex and the Cardinals, gives an excellent description of Old Pete, whom he calls the greatest pitcher of all time in a piece in Bluebook. Toporcer recalls twice seeing Alexander in fits.
"Pitching against the Phillies one afternoon, it struck him just as he was going into his windup," he remembers. "He automatically went through with the pitch, arching the ball to the plate, while Don Hurst, the batter, froze in amazement."
"Curiously enough, the ball cut the heart of the plate for a called strike."
"Our players were awed by the fact that, even under such circumstances, Alex could throw a strike."
Such was the nature of his marvelous control.
He Hoped It Might Have Been Otherwise
Although there was so much Alex the Great could have boasted about, Toporcer never heard him mention any of his many tremendous achievements.
Once, when he was in a rare confidential mood, he told Toporcer that he started drinking heavily while on overseas duty in World War I.
"It was evident he hoped it might have been otherwise," reports the one-time infielder now blind.
Alex was a genuine member of that almost vanished race, the Old Orioles.
"The effect of excessive alcohol upon his nervous system caused him to be clumsy and irritable at times," recalls Toporcer. "On occasion he would vent sarcasm at players he thought were softies. That is about all that can be said against him."
"Always ready, willing and eager to pitch, he was openly disdainful of players constantly on the rubbin' table. Blessed with a rubber arm, it never bothered him during his entire career."
"The only attention he ever required was to have Kirby Samuels, our Negro trainer, give him a light alcohol rub after he pitched. It became a standard joke that Alex couldn't wait to get alcohol inside him and took it externally in the interval."
Put The Proposition Up to the Hitter
Alex was always among the early arrivals at the park, regardless of his condition.
"Usually almost totally taciturn this humble man seemingly liked only two things, and I am certain baseball came first," says Toporcer. "Most managers frown upon pitchers playing around in the infield, for fear they will smash a finger, but Alex developed quick, sure hands which made him an outstanding fielder of hard-hit balls, even at his advanced baseball age."
After the game in which Alex struck out Tony Lazzeri in the seventh inning of the seventh game of the most celebrated World Series ever played, Toporcer asked him what his reactions were when he was brought in with the bases loaded with Yankees.
"He looked at me in what seemed like amazement," he says. "Why should I be any different out there today than any other time?" replied Alex.
"The burden was on Tony."
"He was the one who had to hit the ball."
"And besides, if he did get hold of one, someone might catch it." Why worry?
Get the ball over and let the other fellow do the worrying.
Put the proposition up to the hitter, as Dixey Dean pointed out. Specs Toporcer wonders why more pitchers don't follow this simple, yet illuminating, philosophy.

Girls Staters To Hold General Election Today; Installation Tonight

Primaries at Girls State yesterday selected Judy Johnson, Nationalist, and Trudy Gassman, Federalist, as opponents in the race for the governorship. The general election will take place this morning on the MacMurray College campus, but the results will not be announced until later today.

The winner will be inducted into office tonight at a dinner session of the conference by Earl Searcy, clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court. All other successful candidates for the six remaining state offices and for seven offices in each of six counties composing Girls State will be installed at the same time.

White Hall Lions Designate July 3 As Dr. Garrison Day

White Hall—Dr. W. H. Garrison, who retired here several years ago after 32 years of medical practice, will be especially honored by the Lions club of White Hall on July 3, which will be titled "Dr. Garrison Day."

Dr. W. H. Garrison

The doctor was born Jan. 23, 1869, in Hardin township. He began the practice of medicine in Pearl, Ill. He served as an elder in the Christian churches for 50 years and was Sunday school superintendent for 23 years. He was a Sunday school teacher for more than 50 years.

Carrie E. Servoss Succumbs Friday At Her Home Here

Mrs. Carrie E. Servoss died at 8:10 p.m. Friday at her home, 926 W. Lafayette avenue.

She was born at Forest City, Ill., April 24, 1864, a daughter of Alexander and Nancy Cross. She married Dr. A. G. Servoss of Havana in 1888. He died in 1920.

A brother, William, and a sister, Sue, both of Forest City, also preceded her in death.

She leaves a son, Harold G. Servoss; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Esther Servoss; and a granddaughter, Helen Emmmons, of Havana.

The family home was at Havana until the death of Dr. Servoss, after which the widow resided with her sister at Forest City. When her sister died four years ago, Mrs. Servoss came to Jacksonville to make her home.

She was a member of the Forest City Community church, where services will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. CST. Rev. Joseph Hobbs will officiate. Interment will be made in Forest City cemetery.

The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home, where the family will meet friends Saturday from 7:30-9 p.m.

Traffic Held Up When Mason Truck Loses Baled Hay

Traffic on South Main street was held up for an hour Friday evening as two trucks, and a volunteer, re-loaded 100 bales of clover hay. The job attracted a good-sized crowd, even though the thermometer was up in the 90's.

The bales tumbled off of the southbound semi-trailer soon after it had made the turn at the square, at 6:40 p.m.

The truck was driven by Buford Ash of Kibbourn, Ill.

Patrolmen Leach and Stafford directed traffic while the three men got the bales back on the truck and the restraining chains bound down.

Many men in the group recalled how "I've bucked many a bale in my time," but only one of them helped the two men from Mason county.

Last night in Annie Merner chapel, the two political parties drafted and adopted their campaign platforms under the guidance of their central committees, which were chosen in the primaries yesterday. The conventions nailed together the planks which the respective candidates will run on today.

On Sunday Girls Staters will hear Sherwood Dixon, lieutenant governor of Illinois. He will address the 420 members of the 12th annual conference on problems of state government. The meeting will be presided over by the newly elected governor, who will succeed Miss Judy Harrison of Chicago, who has wielded the gavel thus far as the governor elected in 1951.

From Olney, Monmouth

The Federalist candidate for governor, Miss Gassman, hails from Olney, and her opponent, Miss Johnson, comes from Monmouth. Each won the nomination over opposition from two opponents. Miss Johnson defeated Donna Dabney, Canton, and Virginia Wilson, Urbana, in the Nationalist primary. Miss Gassman rode to triumph over the combined opposition of Pat McFarlin, Harvard, and Maryann Pils, Chicago.

For lieutenant governor, the race will be between Barbara Boyd of Anna, Federalist, and Beverly Glawe, Poplar Grove, the Nationalist candidate. Both had opposition from two others in the primary balloting. They were: Nationalist Rita Dively, Litchfield, and Jackie Piletic, Peru. Federalist also-rans were Gail Bradbury, Chicago, and Mary Jane Deneen, Marengo.

Carolyn Anderson, Waukegan, and Darlene Andreas, Ringwood, will face each other in the race for secretary of state, the former as a Nationalist, the latter as the Federalist. Each had opposition from two others in the primary.

In Race For Auditor

The race for auditor will feature a battle of ballots between Mary Wade of Peoria and Sue Buringae of Quincy. The former is the Nationalist, and the latter is the Federalist. Each defeated one opponent in Friday's primary.

For state treasurer, it is a contest between Jane Collins, Hillsboro, and Betty Stillwell of Champaign. Miss Collins, the Nationalist, was unopposed in the primary, while Miss Stillwell had one opponent.

The new superintendent of public instruction will be either Colleen Patton of West Frankfort, the Nationalist, or Susan Ann Goodman, the Federalist. Each defeated one primary opponent.

Finally, Nancy Mazylewski, Berwyn, and Pat Loparco, Chicago, are seeking election as attorney general, the former as the Nationalist and the latter as Federalist. Miss Loparco vanquished one opponent in the primary while Miss Mazylewski had no opposition.

Lorraine Pahlman, who was chosen by the Chapin Legion Auxiliary to attend Girls State in Jacksonville, has been elected alderman of Suters city, Hartman county.

ROBINS FIGHT REFLECTIONS

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't be surprised if you see a robin fighting its own image in a window or hub cap, says the National Audubon Society.

They and other birds do it all the time during the nesting season under the impression they are driving away another of their own species. If you want to stop the fight, hang a cloth over the reflecting surface.

ROTARIANS TOUR TUCKER PLANT IN "STYLE"

Some 85 members of the Rotary club climbed into two large moving vans Friday afternoon (note picture at right) after luncheon in the Dunlap hotel, and went visiting. Their destination was the new multi-million dollar plant of Mrs. Tucker's Foods, Inc., located east of the city. They were taken on escorted tours through the vast industrial center.

Sam Pack, resident engineer of the corporation, and other employees of the plant joined in welcoming the clubmen and showing them around. Some buildings of the vegetable oil processing plant are near completion—foundations have just been laid for others. Much equipment has already arrived for installation.

The trip to Mrs. Tucker's was made in vans furnished by the Jacksonville Transfer & Storage Co.

Edward Bargery, Jr., was program chairman for the day.

The left-hand picture shows Dr. Henry A. Dollear, new president of Rotary, who assumed office Friday. Clarendon Smith, retiring president of the local service club, and Sam Pack, host for the tour.

They are using paper fans provided to help beat the oven-like heat of the big trucks.

Five Local Youths Attend Boys State At Springfield

Five Jacksonville boys are attending Premier Boys State at the State Fair grounds at Springfield. Fred Goodey, Bob Kaufmann, Bill Spencer, Jerry Omundson and Dick Barnes are representing this city at the sessions, wherein young people learn government by conducting it.

Local Legion post 279 is sponsoring two of the boys, Fred Goodey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Goodey, and Bill Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Spencer. The 40 and 8 sent Dick Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnes, to the sessions. The Exchange club sent Jerry Omundson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Omundson. Kaufmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaufmann, is sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

In addition to elections and class study of civics and other governmental subjects, the boys' time is taken up with swimming and various forms of recreation.

One of the local youths, Bill Spencer, writes home that he has been going to the law school there and is trying out for a part in the "Moot Court Case," a courtroom scene to be presented on stage. "This life is the closest thing to the Army," he declares, and mentions strict discipline and close order drills every morning.

Expect To Let Contract For Cut-Off Next Month

Officials at the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce announced Friday that word has been received from the Illinois Division of Highways that the contract for construction of the U. S. Route 36 cut-off highway west of the city is expected to be let July 18. A number of other contracts for highway construction elsewhere in the state will be let at the same time. Advertisements for bids will be published next Wednesday.

The new cut-off route, which will divert traffic from West College avenue and South Main street, will connect with Highway 36 west of Point Church and will be laid directly east to West Morton avenue. The securing of a right-of-way for the road was completed some months ago following extensive work by the Chamber of Commerce. To begin construction soon.

Work on building the highway will begin as soon as possible after the contract is let, sometime during the summer, it was said. No prediction was made as to how long it will take to complete the project. C. M. Wahl, district engineer of District 6, state Division of Highways, also announced that the state is working on plans for extending a four-lane highway east from the South Main-Morton avenue intersection to the junction of Routes 36 and 104, near the C. B. & Q. overpass. This project will require the purchase of additional property for the right-of-way from Hardin avenue east to the junction outside the city.

The widening of the highway west of the South Main-Morton avenue intersection will be comparable to the widening of the route east of the intersection along West Morton. It is expected that the acquisition of property will begin sometime in the early fall.

Chamber To Assist

The local Chamber of Commerce, it was said, is planning to assist the division of highways in securing the additional property.

The widening of the route east of the intersection will begin after the property has been secured, possibly next summer, according to predictions.

A spokesman commented that when all contemplated improvements are made "we will have a thorough artery which will allow heavy traffic to flow quickly and easily through the city with a minimum of inconvenience to the citizens of Jacksonville."

Profit-Sharing Way To Keep Son On Farm

Urbana—My son wants to farm and I'd like to see him on this farm some day. But I'm not ready to retire. There aren't many farms for rent, and he doesn't have much money.

That's a problem that is bothering a good many farm Dads these days. And it's a tough one. But there's one possible answer: a profit-sharing agreement. It will give the son a chance to get paid for his labor and to save toward becoming a partner.

Here's how one central Illinois grain farmer gave his son a start. A true case using assumed names, it comes from Jack Casar, farm management supervisor in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Six Reasons

Clear says this partnership clicks for six reasons: (1) the farm is large enough and is efficiently operated, (2) complete and accurate records are kept, (3) satisfactory living conditions are provided, (4) income is divided fairly, (5) plans are adjusted from time to time and (6) father and son cooperate in making major decisions.

Jim, the dad, rents a good 400-acre farm on a crop-share basis. He brought his son, Bill, into the business in 1946. Besides producing grain, they raise about 20 hogs a year, and recently they started feeding cattle.

Bill, now 25 years old, contributes only his labor and gets 25 percent of the tenant's income. This arrangement is fair in this case, but may need to be different for an owned farm, for a smaller farm, for a younger man or for a less efficiently operated farm.

The son draws $200 a month which is deducted from his 25 percent at the end of the year. He has averaged about $3,100 a year since 1946. Annual settlement is based on Farm Bureau farm management service records.

Plan Contribution To Church Fund

The building fund of the First Baptist church will be increased by $500 at the end of this month. When Mrs. F. J. Wilder was hostess to her Sunday school class Thursday, it was voted to pay that sum on the class pledge by July 1.

Fourteen members and four guests of the class assembled at Mrs. Wilder's home, 1443 S. Main street, for a potluck dinner and meeting. Mrs. Dowland conducted a short business session and read a poem entitled "If We Could."

Plans were made for a bazaar to be held in early fall.

WRC PICNIC POSTPONED

Owing to the extreme heat, the Women's Relief Corps picnic has been postponed from Sunday, June 29, to a later date.
